Buy•Sell•Trade Manure & More

If you're looking to buy, sell, or trade manure, hay, equipment or other agricultural surplus material and by-products, you've come to the right place.

NYAgTrader.org is an online agricultural exchange where growers can buy, sell, or trade manure, hay, equipment and other agricultural surplus materials and byproducts. Visit us online to find links to Food and AgTrader sites in other states as well.

NYFoodTrader.org

Buy•Sell•Trade Locally Grown Food

If you're looking to buy, sell, or donate locally grown food products, then you've come to the right place.

NYFoodTrader.org is an online farmers' market connecting producers and consumers of locally grown fresh food and other farmers' market goods. Visit us online to find links to Food and AgTrader sites in other states as well.

NYFoodTrader.org is an online bulletin board for local food exchange. Farmers and other farm-related businesses with meats, dairy, fruits, vegetables, and other foodstuffs can use our website to post an ad about available food for commercial and individual consumers interested in buying local, fresh food.

Our mission is to support rural economies in New York State by connecting producers and consumers and actively promoting the exchange of fresh, locally-produced food.
